

LET'S TALK

ABOUT RACE

WEBINAR

Wednesday 10th
November, 2-3.30pm

Free online Zoom event.
Everyone welcome.

Over the last year, you may have found yourself asking What has George Floyd got to do with British racing? Why am I accused of being racist or having white privilege when I've had to work hard too? or What more can I do when I already treat everyone the same?

The topic of race and equality is uncomfortable. Many of us worry about saying or doing the wrong thing, particularly if we don't quite 'get it'.

This webinar aims to open up the discussion in a safe yet brave space, bring together both experts and racing professionals who are interested in learning more.

You don't need to be an expert; everyone is invited to join the conversation.

Join sporting legends, racing industry leaders and experts to discuss why racism and racial equality is such an important topic across our society, businesses and the sporting landscape.

Nick Luck

Broadcaster of the Year

Nick Luck has been broadcasting and writing on horseracing since 2002. He is lead presenter for Racing TV, a regular host/reporter for NBC and is the voice of equestrian coverage for the BBC, as well as hosting his daily racing podcast. Nick sits on the Racing Welfare, Aintree Racecourse and TBA committees, and is a trustee of the National Horse Racing Museum. He has been named Racing Broadcaster of the Year eight times.

Shereen Daniels

Advocate for anti-racism in business and Managing Director, HR rewired

An advocate for anti-racism in business and Managing Director of anti-racism advisory firm HR rewired, Shereen is on a global mission to unlock over one million conversations about race by 2025, her story has been featured in Forbes and she's recognised as one of LinkedIn's Top Voices for 2020.

Michael Holding

Cricketing legend and well-known sports presenter

Born in Jamaica, Michael is one of the greatest pace bowlers in cricketing history and a life-long racing fan. As a well-respected Sky Sports presenter, his widely-reported comments in 2020 about the pre-match kneeling of both teams in respect to Black Lives Matter led to him writing this third book - Why We Kneel, How We Rise - which delivers a powerful and inspiring message of hope for the future and a vision for change, taking readers through history to understand the racism of today.

Suzy Smith

Racehorse Trainer, NTF Council Member and DIRSG Member

Suzy started riding out for an Epsom trainer aged 14yrs and at that point decided she wanted to eventually train herself. After leaving school, she went on to gain the National Stud Diploma in Newmarket. She then worked in a mix of both flat and National Hunt yards and went on to take out her own training licence aged 25yrs in 2002. She has had Listed and Graded winners over jumps and her first win on the flat came in the form of the Ascot Stakes at Royal Ascot. Suzy is a keen National Hunt Breeder and is also a regional representative for the South East region of the National Trainer's Federation.
